FOREWORD

FOREWORD

The Lingnan University Library was named after the late benefactor Mr. Fong Sum Wood in 1998.

Since its beginning in 1968, the Library has grown to hold more than 500,000 volumes of books, bound journals and audio-visual materials. The core collections cover various areas of our liberal arts curriculum, including arts and humanities, social sciences, and business studies. In order to keep up with the speedy pace of technology advancement, the Library has introduced a wide range of electronic services, such as online full-text databases, CD-ROMs, wireless LAN and different types of automatic alert services. The Chiang Chen Information Commons (IC) in the Library also provides the Lingnan community a one-stop service for reference, information technology and multimedia services support.

The Library is located in the Patrick Lee Wan Keung Academic Building of the Lingnan Campus and occupies four floors. We provide over 170 public PCs and more than 600 seats for Library users. The Library is not only a place for studying and researching, but also a place for networking and cultural activities. Users can work on their group projects in the individual and collaborative workrooms in the IC on 1/F; or enjoy soft drinks and watch current news from the TV provided inside the Café for a break during study.

The Fong Sum Wood Library has long been the hub of academic activities in Lingnan. We strive to provide great services for accessing knowledge on campus.

- Thread-bound Chinese classics: Special Collections on 1/F South

How Can I Borrow From Special Collections?

Special Collections are available upon request at the Circulation Counter and must be used inside the Library.

Library Materials Recommendations

You are welcome to recommend new books, serials, or audiovisual materials to the Library. Recommendations can be made online at: <http://www.library.ln.edu.hk/collections/recommend/>

Print forms are also available at the Circulation Counter.

1-Search

1-Search provides searching across the online catalogue, HKALL, and over 40 of the Library's subscribed databases and electronic text collections. It does not search all of the Library's databases and is not a substitute for searching the databases directly where more options and better results can be obtained than are currently available from 1-Search. 1-Search does provide a quick and convenient way to see if your topic is covered in more than one database or in any of the thousands of full-text books and journals.

Unity is strength...

Hong Kong Academic Library Link (HKALL)

HKALL allows students and faculty at any UGC-funded institution to search the union catalogues and make direct requests for books from other UGC-funded institutions, effectively allowing access to 11 million locally owned Library materials.

HKALL can be accessed in two ways:

- Click Online Catalogue, type in your search item, and if the item is not found, click the Search HKALL button
- Click the HKALL button from Lingnan Digital Library homepage and search the HKALL catalogue at: <http://hkall.hku.hk/search>

Books are normally available for pickup at the Circulation Counter within three working days. You will be sent an e-mail on their arrival.

Conduct of Library Users

1.

All Library users should abide by the Library regulations and follow any other instructions from Library staff on the use of the Library.

2.

The Librarian or deputy may temporarily exclude any person who has infringed any of the Library regulations or who has interfered with the comfort of other users and the work of the Library staff.

3.

Umbrellas, food, drink or anything which in the opinion of the Library staff may interfere with the proper use and management of the Library are permitted in designated areas of the Library only.

4.

Users must not wear rain-coats or any clothing likely to soil Library property.

5.

Smoking is strictly prohibited in the Library. Any users found smoking in the Library will be sent to appropriate University disciplinary bodies.

6.

No games are allowed in the Library or on Library computers.

7.

Library users are required to sit in the seats provided. Tables and chairs should not be moved from their original positions.

9.

The Library is not responsible for the safe keeping of any belongings left in the Library.

8.

Reservation of seats in the Library is not permitted. Items including Library books left unattended on Library tables exceeding twenty minutes may be removed by Library staff.

10.

Silence must be maintained in the Library. Use of mobile phones or pagers will lead to disciplinary actions.

11.

All Library materials must be kept clean and in good condition. Any users found mutilating or defacing the Library materials will be sent to appropriate University disciplinary bodies.

12.

When doing photocopies in the Library, users must observe the laws regarding copyright. Users are warned that they are fully responsible for any legal consequences that may arise concerning copyright.

13.

When necessary, the Library may make special arrangements concerning the user of particular areas of the Library.

Re-Classification of Library Materials

The multi-year project to re-classify the Library's entire 500,000 plus items to the Library of Congress Classification scheme which began in 2006 was completed at the end of 2010. Library users will now be able to fully enjoy the benefits of an integrated Library collection whereby materials are shelved by subjects regardless of language.

The following tables show the call number locations in the General and Large Book (LBK) Collections:

General Collections
