The Lingnan University Library that occupies four floors in the Patrick Lee Wan Keung Academic Building was named after the late benefactor Mr. Fong Sum Wood in 1998. Since its beginning in 1968, the Library has grown to hold more than 506,000 volumes of books, bound journals and audio-visual materials. In addition to print books, the Library also has a large e-book collection of more than 970,000 items. The core collections cover various areas of our liberal arts curriculum, including arts and humanities, social sciences, and business studies. The Library currently subscribes to over 1,300 print journals and approximately 49,000 online serials, as well as 242 databases. The Library’s online catalogue, most databases and electronic resources are available both on and off-campus.

The Chiang Chen Information Commons (IC) in the Library provides the Lingnan community a one-stop service for reference, information technology and multimedia services support. The Library provides 600+ seats, 197 public workstations, and 18 individual and group study rooms, all with access to the Internet and campus network via wired and wireless connections.

The Lee Hak Kan Multimedia and Language Learning Centre (MLLC), located on the second floor in the North Wing of the Library has more than 97,000 multimedia resources. The MLLC aims to encourage students to improve their language proficiency through independent study. The Library serves the Lingnan community as the cultural centre of the campus, offering boundless opportunities for cultural enrichment and knowledge discovery. Seminars and workshops are organized regularly in the MLLC’s mini-theatre.

The Lingnan University Archives, located on the second floor of the South Wing of the Library, preserves and showcases the University’s history. The Fong Sum Wood Library has long been the hub of academic activities in Lingnan. We strive to provide great services for accessing knowledge on campus.
